The Pastor’s Mind’s Eye

Bury the Dead

Part 1

“Give graciously to all the living, and withhold not kindness from the dead” (Sir 7:33).

The other six corporal works of mercy are taken from the famous parable of the Last Judgment, in which people are saved or condemned because of how they treated the hungry, the thirsty, the imprisoned, and so on (Mt 25:21-46). This work is inspired by the Old Testament figure Tobit, who buried the dead at the risk of his own life.

In one sense, this is a work of mercy we perform without thinking: when someone we know dies, we want to pay our respects by visiting the funeral home or attending their funeral. We even go to funerals of people we do not know well if they happen to be close to people who are dear to us. This is a gracious gesture and offers great consolation to the family of the bereaved. If the person is known to us, the funeral is a time to express our own sorrow and share memories with others. Such actions are a part of every culture and religious tradition.

This work of mercy also challenges us to reflect on the Christian understanding of death, and thus how we bury the dead. In the Creed we profess that we believe in the resurrection of the body, and that fundamental truth shapes our rich Catholic tradition of funeral rites. We read in the Catechism: “The bodies of the dead must be treated with respect and charity, in faith and hope of the Resurrection. The burial of the dead is a corporal work of mercy; it honors the children of God, who are temples of the Holy Spirit” (CCC 2300).

St. Vincent de Paul's Corner Notes

In today's Gospel, John the Baptist urges us to "Prepare the way of the Lord." This is what Advent is all about, for we are called to help prepare the way of the Lord by making the real meaning of Christmas come alive in our own hearts, in our family and to reach out to those in need.

Is there a family you know who needs assistance? Please call the Society of St. Vincent de Paul so that together we can help the suffering and poor to celebrate Christmas.

If you know of anyone in need, please call either Rosemary at 786-9442 or Karen at 786-9082.

St. Vincent is seeking volunteers to help in the Escanaba warehouse. Please call 789-1281 if you can help.

Everyone should have received a little Blue Book for Advent in the mail this past week. If you would like an extra copy there are some at the back of church. Feel free to take a copy.

THIS WEEK'S READINGS

Sumus Missiles Deum

Hello everyone! I truly feel so blessed to be a part of this parish, and I am so thankful to be a part of this Holy Family. A few weeks ago, Christian and I received financial help from the Seminarian Education Fund to help with tuition. Thank you all so very much! The generosity of this parish is something that I am very proud of and the prayerful support of this parish is truly something that inspires me to work hard in my formation for the priesthood. One thing that I'm very much looking forward to is my time at home during my Thanksgiving break. I really do miss the UP and my home. It's absolutely crazy how this semester has flown by! When I get back to Detroit, I'll only have about three more weeks until the semester is ended! Please continue to pray for me as this school year comes to a close. I have only two more philosophy papers to write and I should be out of the woods. Thank you again so very much and please know of my prayers for all of you. God bless, Ben

Parish Faith & Family News

We had our Family Group Gathering last Wednesday. I would like to thank all those who helped in any way. Maybe you were one of the characters in our skit, or getting them dressed for the skit. Maybe you were a teacher or a voice in the distance, or you made treats or popped popcorn and worked in the kitchen. Maybe you helped out with the crafts, or handed out items, or greeted everyone. You are all appreciated so much. If you didn't attend you missed a good time. Consider coming to the next one.

The answers to the scrambled words last week are: church, Nazareth, tree, and wreath. Look at the end of this article for more.

When you look up the word manger in the dictionary it says; a trough or open box in a stable designed to hold feed for livestock. Did you ever think about that? Food is put in a manger to feed. Jesus was laid in a manger. He is our nourishment. Our life line. What a wonderful analogy. Just add that to the list of many wonderful things about our faith.

There is class this Wednesday, the 7th, for 2nd graders. And there is class next weekend for the Confirmation students. This starts right after the 10:00 Mass.

To the Confirmation students: Are you working on your service hours? Please make sure you get the paper signed by whomever is in charge. Also, if your sponsor is not from Holy Family Church they need to get a signed form stating they are active in the parish they are registered in.

Here are a few more words to unscramble:
