We will strive to imitate the Holy Family: by being a loving, welcoming, and forgiving community – fully alive in the Spirit of God; by teaching our children the Gospel way of life and encouraging them always to share fully in the life of our parish; by celebrating the Liturgy as a joyful remembrance of our Lord’s Sacrifice for us; by being a family of prayer; by respecting all life, and by having our arms open always to embrace the sick and needy.

from your pastor

Thank you to the small army of volunteers who made the harvest festival and dinner a success once again. The funds are a welcome addition, but the real blessing of the event is so many folks of differing backgrounds and ages all working together toward a common goal, the welfare of the place where Christ pitches his tent in our midst and meets us in the sacraments.

I am sure that you will have made welcome your former pastor, Father John Longbucco. Father John graciously agreed to revisit Holy Family parish on behalf of Cross International on a weekend that I am away. A medical test in Grand Rapids on Wednesday brought me downstate on Wednesday. In addition, I plan to concelebrate the Institution Mass at Sacred Heart Major Seminary on Friday. Christian Flagstadt from this parish will be Instituted as a Reader and Ben Rivard, a former parishioner, will be Instituted as an Acolyte. These are proximate steps on the road to Ordination to the Diaconate and Priesthood and so are significant milestones for these young men who are known to us.

On Saturday and Sunday I will attend the Call to Holiness Conference in Detroit. The keynote speaker is Raymond Leo Cardinal Burke. Mass followed by a dinner on Sunday will conclude the event.
Oremus pro invicem.

In this Sunday's Gospel, the tax collector's prayer allows God to be God and so allows God to pour mercy into his heart. When we pray and give alms to the poor, we allow God's mercy to be poured into their hearts.
